

Three Solutions, One Optimized Customs Brokerage Process

Tradeflow operates as a value-added compliance check between Tradewin and Expeditors. Using Tradeflow, you ensure that your commodities are classified, validated, and prepared for an accurate and compliant declaration.

Tradeflow facilitates global supply chain movement by monitoring changes related to landed cost, regulatory controls, global commodity classification, and compliance management. We validate all vital information about your commodities and populate it on documents to then be distributed to your stakeholders for import and export declaration processing.

TRADEWIN

Compliance challenges exist across borders, regions, and continents. Tradewin's professional global compliance staff can classify your products and ensure the expedited and compliant shipment of your goods. Before you establish your shipment validation with Tradeflow, make sure you optimize effective solutions with Tradewin in regulatory affairs, professional advisory, and trade data management.

TRADEFLOW

Our compliance-focused, web-based software suite provides tools to give you more control of your logistics supply chain through visibility and data management. We facilitate the classification process and ensure that by the time you're ready to file your entry with Customs, the declaration process is smooth sailing without supply chain disruption or delays.

EXPEDITORS

Staying compliant through Tradeflow's software modules helps you manage your data and proceed through international shipping without delays or penalties. Access all your shipping data and gain end-to-end visibility on commercial documents, duties and regulatory controls, screening against Denied Parties, and commodity classification with Tradeflow's service offerings.
